

OREGON'S PLENTIFUL GARDENS

Swan Island Dahlias

Oregon is filled with world-class public gardens that will enchant gardeners and non-gardeners alike. We are able to grow a huge variety of plants, crops, flowers, trees and ornamental gardens. All are lovingly cared for by friendly Oregonians, ready to welcome visitors to their cities, towns, neighborhoods, businesses, farms and gardens. Check out some of the highlights from every region of the state!

PORTLAND

The public gardens in Portland are world-renowned. The Portland Japanese Garden is considered one of the most authentic Japanese gardens outside of Japan. Across the street is the Portland International Rose Test Garden, considered one of the best rose gardens in the USA. Nearby, Pittock Mansion Gardens surround the house museum, perched atop a hill overlooking downtown Portland with magnificent views of Mount Hood. Peninsula Park Rose Garden opened in 1913 and echoes a formal garden design popular in Europe's bygone days. South of Portland, Rogerson's Clematis Garden is home to North America's largest collection of clematis, a flowering plant nicknamed Queen of the Vines.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY

Oregon's fertile Willamette Valley is bursting with public gardens, nurseries and horticulture. Nursery and greenhouse products are Oregon's #1 agriculture commodity, so the countryside is fascinating to explore. Many of the growers welcome the public and have incredible display gardens you can wander, including Sebright Gardens, Wooden Shoe Tulip Farm, Adelman's Peony Gardens, Schreiner's Iris Gardens, and Swan Island Dahlias. Located in Silverton, The Oregon Garden is an 80-acre paradise packed with experiences for the entire family. Adjacent is The Oregon Garden Resort, a charming lodge-style hotel and events center. The Allison Inn & Spa offers a luxurious experience, surrounded by gardens and vineyards.

OREGON COAST

All 363 miles of Oregon's spectacular ocean coastline is open to the public, creating endless opportunities to explore. Seaside's Pocket Gardens include over 100 mini-gardens that can be explored using a walking tour map. In Lincoln City you'll find the Connie Hansen Garden Conservancy. Continuing south, Darlingtonia State Natural Site is a fascinating preserve dedicated to carnivorous plants. Shore Acres State Park is perched on rugged cliffs above the ocean and includes formal gardens that were once a timber baron's private estate.

SOUTHERN OREGON

Lithia Park in quaint and welcoming Ashland is a 100-acre jewel with historic gardens, forests, trails, recreation fields and more. Lithia Springs Resort offers a lush garden setting for wine tasting, mineral waters and relaxing accommodations. Palmerton Arboretum in the town of Rogue River contains trees and shrubs from around the world. Experience one of the world's favorite herbs at farms and festivals on the Southern Oregon Lavender Trail.
